At the hall corner 44 street and Pennsylvania avenue to-day about fifty men were seated about the room discussing the prospects of the eight-hour movement. Most of these men were plumbers and tinners, and the latter were quite jubilant because of the accession of five of the boss tinners to the movement, and the announcement that henceforth the rule of these shops will be eight hours. WHAT IS SAID BY EXPLOYERS AND EMPLOYED.

When a reporter asked, about 1:30 o'clock: A mob of six to eight thousand persons reassembled near the corner of 18th street and Center avenue at noon and raided the Rosenield drug store, mentioned in the early dispatches, carrying off everything portable in the store. They then raided a liquor store in the vicinity, carrying away or drinking all the liquor. Women and children joined in this raid. The police dispersed the mob.

"Are there any new men taking your places?" the reply was, "No new men are in town, and every train and steamer is watched carefully." One said, "An advertisement was put in the New York Heraid yesterday, signed by D. Hannan, for fifteen plumbers, but he has not got them yet, and won't. The Secretary of War last evening resubmitted to the Attorney General all the correspondence and papers connected with the matter for reconsideration as to the validity of title.

It will be remembered that Congress authorized the purchase of the Aqueduct bridge by the Secretary of War, for a sum not exceeding $85,000. The lessees of the bridge were willing to make the sale, but the Attorney General rendered an opinion that there were defects in the title which, until cleared awry, would prevent the purchase of the structure by the govern-and that objection was speedily removed. The most serious objection raised, however, was the imperfect title to the north abutment of the bridge. This abutment was built by the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal company for the Alexandria Canal company, at the time when the branch canal was established. It was built for the use of the branch canal and has been used ever since by the Alexandria Canal company without question. The lessees of the bridge claim that all rights of the Alexandria Canal company in this matter reverted to them, and Certain outstanding bonds of the Alexandria claim that all rights of the Alexandria Canal company in this matter reverted to them, and the use of the abutment and right of way over it all these years constitute an easement, which will obviate all danger of the government's ownership ever being questioned. The opinion of the Attorney General on the question will be necessary to permit the purchase of the bridge, but it is the general impression that he will decide that the title will be satisfactory. THE CORONER'S JURY DETERMINE THAT IT WAS CAUSED BY A BLOW GIVEN BY MRS. TAULELLE.

The coroner impaneled a jury this morning at house No. 820 17th street to investigate the death of Robert Michell, a Frenchman, who died in his lodgings at that house Monday night of eryslpelas. Circumstances connected with the case led to the suspicion that death with the case led to the suspicion that death was primarily caused by a blow, said to have been inflicted by Mme. Taulelle, a French woman, during a quarrel at her husband's piace of ibusiness, 615 14th street. Mme. Taulelle, a trimiy-built, vivacious, little French woman, of about 30, with comely, regular leatures, even white teeth, and a pretty red hat attended, the inquest this morning. When speaking of the case to a STAR reporter she shrugged her shoulders and said, "It ces all lie."

The jury to-day was composed of Mestrs. Daniel Shanahan, Oscar Baker, Frederick A. Schneider, H. Walker Tucker, Samuel M. Freeman and Benjamin L. Wheeler. man and Benjamin L. Wheeler.

THE TESTIMONY.

Dr. L. V. Dovilliers testified that he was summoned about a week ago to attend Michelli found him in bed suffering from erysipelas of the face; he had been sick for two or three dank he grew steadily worse. Saturday evening the witness called in Dr. D. R. Hagner in consiltation. The first intimation witness had that the deceased had been injured by a blow to received from Mr. Leon Geneste. The skip on the nose and forehead was slightly abraded. Leon Geneste, a young man living at the ouse where Michell died, testified that a weed ago last Friday he went to Michell's room. Macheil was washing a sore on his nose and said that he had gotten up in the night and knocked his nose against the door. Monday morning Mich-ell's wife told witness that Michell was sick abed. When the witness saw him Michell com-plained of violent pains in his head. On Tuesday his face showed signs of crysipelas and wit-ness went after the physician. Wednesday or Thursday witness, upon examining Michell's head, discovered for the first time a bruise on the right side of the scalp about the size of a half-dollar piece. The first witness heard of a blow was on the Saturday before Michell was taken sick. Witness' father told him that the deceased bad not knocked his nose against the Goor; that deceased told him that a certain La Page had come Friday evening for him (Mica-ell) while he was lying down, to go to Mr. Tau-lelle's house and make some explanation about wine; and that while there Michell got into a changed. The employers are holding out in their resistance to the eight hours, and they express their intention of not yielding. One of the contractors said this morning that yester-('3y he was at work himself on one of the build-intention of not yielding. One of the build-intention of not yielding out in the process of the contractors and that while there Michell got into a fuse with Mr. Taulelle, and that Taulelle's wife had picked up some instrument and knocked him on the head and nose; that La Page was sitting down looking on. Leonard Geneste, father of the preceding wit-ness, testified that on Saturday, April 24th, Michell told him that on the night before La Michell told him that on the night before La Page took him to Taulelle's to explain some words which Michell was reported to have spoken derogatory to liquors sold by La Page. There Taulelle called Michell a liar, and Michell struck Taulelle. Then Mrs. Taulelle took a clothes brush and struck Michell in the face.

The witness, who spoke in broken English, said Michell told him that Mrs. Taulelle, after striking him with the brush, struck him with a club. La Page is now in New York.

Mrs. Michell, the widow of the deceased, who was next examined, showed great distress was next examined, showed great distress while in the witness chair. She spoke rapidly in broken English. She gave a statement similar to Mr. Leonard Geneste's. She said her husband told her that Mrs. Tauielle struck him twice with something like a policeman's club She said that she understood the Taulelles had bad teeling against her husband because he had bad leening against her husband because he had sent customers for wine to other places.

Dr. Lachlan Tyler, who made the post mortem examination, testified that the erysipelas was caused by a blow.

Mrs. Delphine Tauielle testified that Michell was brought to her house last November by La Page for board, and remained there a few weeks. While there, she said, he treated her weeks. While there, she said, he treated her sister in a disrespectful manner. She testified that La Page brought Michell to their place on account of what Taulelle said Michell had said about La Page's wine. During the quarrel Taulelle accused Michell of being insolent to his sister-in-law. Michell seized Taulelle by the nose and throat and struck him. Witness said she struck the deceased with a light cane belonging to La Page on the hand, to make him let go of her husband. THE VERDICT. The jury found a verdict that death resulted from "Inflammation of the membranes of the

from the evidence was caused by a blow on the head, inflicted with a cane or club, in the hands of Mrs. Delphine Taulelle, on the 23d of April, 1886. We further find that said blow was inflicted without intent to take life or do trievous headily bears. ous, bodily harm."

The coroner accepted Mrs. Taulelle's personal recognizance, and reserved the papers to the district attorney's office.

Michell, the deceased, was 32 years old, and had been in this city a few months, employed as a waiter in private families. The District in Congress. THE LIBRARY SITE. The new library building commission was
